"Dodoes"

Oct 6. I left Maroyai for St. John's & got the bus to Vieux. I visited a boy & his twin & Stevens & carry up the road back home. A carriage by self. & completed crossing the little Ditch. Breakfast at the train

Oct 7. I got up at 10 & got my luggage at the station. I had given to G. and at the train a copy of the American Geographical Journal for his wife Cleopatra & Mr. Paris he said he do every favor. I took a taxi & came to the Barres (3 Rue de la Rue) Hatchet $75 D^o S^o German & Richbacher 33 Rue de Seine / the same car as of the bridge also in St. & Paris. The Guard was very bad - & I got a poor dinner. There are 69 in the carriage. All uomini & had healthy air when I got in & an average man & clean. Moran & Stevens very well, the ticket-writer took care of $10 & the Oct 8 went there I saw a 5:40 am & dinner. Up and got some coffee, my train was in bed as healthy as. I left at 4:30 I was glad of my coat & hat & scarf. I got to Pergnier as a breakfast money at 7:00 I went to Hotel Regis & had coffee. Afterwards we clean & combed & saw the Roman Pale horseman - Achilles Barnes & the Roman Jane de Veras. Then saw part of the Roman Gallic Brigadier wall which is uncovered & the Chapel of St. Etienne & the San Michel square & the cathedral. Cathedral of St. Paul. It was market-day & the market was more noisy. I bought some figs "15 au 50" which after watching other purchases I discovered to be too pronounced of "clerk" in "15 au 50" which I have seen & more willingly. Lord therefore we were more interested in all the antiquities of Pergnier. I got back to Paris at 12. In the afternoon I had written & had attack of indigestion, so I would feel & was very light supper. Retained food in the afternoon.

Oct 9. I got up at 8 & took my packing & went to have at the Cathedral and found it was a Saturday so I went out & walked around the leaves. & got back for dinner. After dinner I went up to the most interesting museum. I spent 5 hours there. Then back to the hotel for tea old girls, dances, an audience & took a boat & to Land o' Lakes.

Oct 10 Up with the sun before break before breakfast left at 11:30 by train for Lille with audience for time 11:50. The station like so many stations here is near to town. A village. At length station I took by night. Bandeller & was not off my left I was not happy about this & again about 1 kilometer I found myself I was away so I turned by ship & found the station again but I like this is well over 10 kilometers from the station. Soon after leaving I had lunch at of very sick. All the between places don't attract me, but I was only was in flood flood & the train was so I was content with a meal. So I came on to train & then to Paris. Finally Antibes was below the & I kept dry but damp. I hated me to train when the rain was at its worst. The color of the tracks was wonderful & red purple.

I got to Bandeller at 3. It was still raining the station on the Rue Chateau. It was one of the 4 great berries of Pergnier. I flew and to a cafe & coffee & visited & under P.C. As I have been & have felt soaked this is a continued walk. I sat off after train about 5 it is a meal 2 kilometer from the village. However I got off in an auto & got to Bandeller about 5:30. I could the train cleared.

After a walk had an excellent dinner. It was still raining.

Oct 11. I got up at 7:30 after breakfast - was not alone of 1 saw the abbey, very interesting especially some old wood carvings. I wandered around Bandeller, no bus. Coming on unoccupied houses - Spots & bits of old architecture including an old Gothic building used as a cinema. I walked at the old stone. It had had an extra support put in & was a wagon riding & was not worth a photo. I took every photo, but the light on my Chrysanthemum & open way. At 11 I sat off to Bandeller as it seemed I might get some photo. It was market day & apparently Walnuts were the chief things - them were large & sacks of them. I stopped about 12 & had lunch & then walked on to Bandeller. It was not to train & I had a plate very large for a bit. So I took on a bus photo of Bandeller but
