Reading to Dogs

A 'fur-tastic' programme for growing readers!

Christchurch City Libraries 'Reading to Dogs' programme is designed to provide a relaxed, non-threatening atmosphere which encourages children to practise their reading skills and develop a love of reading.

Reading aloud is critical when children are learning. However, many children have difficulties reading and become self-conscious when reading in front of their peers. Libraries and schools around the world have found that by sitting down and reading to a friendly dog, a child's fear of being judged or laughed at 'over mistakes' disappears. Over time, the child's reading ability and self-confidence improves and they begin to associate reading with a pleasant experience.

How does it work?

The programme uses dogs who are the beloved pets of the Christchurch City Council Animal Management team. These furry friends have all been trained and tested for health, safety and temperament. Our dogs:

- Can increase a child's relaxation while reading
- Listen attentively
- Do not laugh, judge or criticise
- Allow children to proceed at their own pace
- Can be less intimidating than a child's peers

Library staff and a dog handler will be present at all times to help facilitate the sessions.

So snuggle up, have fun and pet your buddy. Reading with a new friend can tucker a dog out, so don't worry if they fall asleep part way through.
