

July 20. We got off at 5:30. Goldfried had borrowed a pair of crampons for me, but they did not fit & the left one finally came right round my foot facing the other foot. The climbing was not difficult, this is all I could say. We were at the top at 7. There was practically no view as we were in fog all the time. We left at 7:25 & were at the hotel at 8. We packed & had a plate of soup & set off at 9:30 & going directly across the St. Gallen road at 10:40. We had a meal - very well cooked. The woman was very doubtful of my photo in the D.O.A.V. museum and Goldfried had to call in to identify me. We got off at 12:15 & on a very steep path keeping to the left bank all the time (I believe it might be worth crossing the bridge at the 1800 m level) & got down into the Kalesen Thal at 2:15. We went round the corner & had a half-leaving at 2:30. We had the remains of an tea just beyond Ramstein. 3:45 - 4:50 got to the ^{KALSER} Kalesen Jannchenhaus 1950 at 4:20. & had some tea & got a shoe-hoof. At the St. Gallen they told us that a week will make an An Freischütz-schaubühne at the Kalesen Jannchenhaus.

July 21. Could not sleep, we got off at 5:20 & crossing the bridge went straight up a new red marked path which is shown on the 1:100,000 map. We found the track had been forgotten, so we had to climb. Chocobals 7:20 - 7:45. The weather looked remarkable threatening. However when we came to the first ^{P. 65} trail mark the fog to set off N.E. & climbed to Kl. Muntenerg-10.2 leaving our sacks at the foot. There was a rocky walk down with a wire rope & rocky walk up & the weather looked so bad & we were both pretty angry. We left at 10:35 & kept close under the rocks of the S.S.W. ridge which is the continuation of the Muntenerg. To get better views we climbed up an Sack which had 5 min rest & were at the Puchstein Dentel Mt. 11:30. The direct descent from the Muntenerg to Landeck Säge is very bad & rough. A big crowd there. We left at 2:5 & at the ^{MATREI} Aussen Steinig Alp sawy right, leaving the road to the left. Pleasantly it began to get damp & from 4:5 - 4:30

G. Goldfried

Muntenerg

We sheltered in a cave. - which Goldfried & I liked. There called a "Schwein Haus". It rained with rain & then cleared. The fog bank became very bad & we worked away in low places. At 1 I was very tired & it was raining pretty steadily. We had heard that - then would be Man of the Kalesen Jannchenhaus & were intending to spend an hour or so & stay. But at the Landeck Säge they told us time was up - so later than thought we turned in. In a few days I had been bothered with a cold & my right arm about 2 inches below the armpit. It had been quite painful. So I think that it was it we were looking at.

July 22 left at 7:45 & got to the Kalesen Jannchenhaus at 9:15 & found my face was swelling, the I had had suspected it - the I showed & found the I had showed off a lot of the skin. We treated the bit with hot fomentations but nothing would happen. The M.T. is very complete & very cheap & the people very willing.

July 23 a wonderful morning so we stayed in & I continued to work using the water & the Goldfried returned. A very pleasant climb. I had some tea & bread for the "Spottke". I watched them fishing for trout in the stream. They got 6 & had some in the stream. I had done myself well - including the bit for 2 other days was up 25 sel. & they worked my fangs feet.

July 24 we got off at 8. We passed Chapel down out of the work at G. Schloss. At Aussen of Schloss we had coffee. Two old German Benedictine Abbots came. I do not know how long they got up there. 8.0 - 8.25 - got to the Allen Plaza hotel at the head of the 12-12-45 & got to the Payer hotel at 1. I did my own. I came out - I was. 2 parties of 2 came up & a party of 4 on the Venetian. I got a drink to work at my arm as it seemed full of cysts.

July 25 left at 4 was a bad day & was did not go outside. Heard that the bit of a party of 3 had been climbing & climbing for the Allen Payer hotel & had not returned. They had been down to the Baden & Defregger & a Kalesen.
