Having
After, had in review, some of events previously recorded, it has been urged upon me to note down further matters that might, in the years ahead be found most interesting, and especially as this year 1940, ~~is~~ being the Centennial year in N. Zealand, that is the close of the century under British Administration, matters all over the country are, <sup>being</sup> or have been collected and published, especially the earlier years from 1840 onwards. It very often happens, that when, too late authentic records can not be found, and it has been left largely to hearsay & from different sources these same matters, may be not always be really correct, at least in detail. But it is not with any intention of going beyond my own recollections, and whilst my memory now is not of the best in many things, I am quite sure of. As in my former jottings, I only stated that I came upon the scene in the year 1863, and mostly enumerated the matters pertaining to my very young days an school life, and as regard matters in general they are only my own opinions as they have been steeped into my own mind.

As in my earlier life, it was not ~~enough~~ lot to struggle very much amongst "the busy throng" but in a pioneers home, with and in circumstances. No busy life of the city and the rush and bustle of every thing through
