

the question of addition to the College must remain in abeyance until the committee can ascertain what funds they may have to deal with.
