

I beg to suggest to the committee the propriety of placing in the reading room "The Church News" "Presbyterian" "Wesleyan" and "Congregationalist" as these periodicals represent at present all the magazine literature of the province. I am of course aware that it may be objected that these publications are sectarian in religion but I think that is obviated by the fact that, with the exception of the Catholics, they represent nearly all the religious views of the province.
